

PRSD must establish and maintain control systems to safeguard and protect the Division's fixed assets, equipment, and inventories. The Division will establish an appropriate balance between the cost of such control systems and the loss exposure associated with the items being controlled. The Division may choose to employ the services of an appraisals firm for this purpose.